Read to Me, Please! Everyone loves to be read to even adults. Spend some extra time and read aloud to your children each night. Discuss what you read together. Students whose parents read to them have a far greater understanding of the world around them and how to handle various situations that they have observed in stories. Increase your child's success by this simple and enjoyable undertaking. Why not start with one of the Chronicles of Narnia by C.S. Lewis! Read one that has not been made into a movie – exercise the mind's ability to turn words into pictures.

Tonight! February 17, Family Fish Fry – “Israelites at Mount Sinai”

After the hymn sing, we return to Exodus and one of its themes: worship of the true God. The video, “Search for Mount Sinai” (45 minutes), is an expedition to discover the place Moses received the Law from God. Join us for dinner and a movie.

Academy Choir – sings for both services Sunday, February 19. All choristers should be present and ready to sing at 7:00am.

Cherub Choir (K-3) – Plan ahead! They will be singing for Divine Service on March 11.

See You There! Our annual Goods and Services Auction will be next Sunday, February 26, 2012. We are looking forward to a great day! Proceeds from the Auction help to defray the expenses of the Academy.

A Little Latin...A Little History.
Highlights of the reign of each king.

A forerunner of the Roman Senate was established under Romulus. This was an advisory council of 100 patricians for the king. Patricians were the heads of noble households. Later the council added an additional one hundred patricians who represented the Sabines. During the reign of King Romulus the foundations of the Assembly and Senate were formed.
