“My idea of good company, Mr. Elliot, is the company of clever, well-informed people, who have a great deal of conversation; that is what I call good company.”

“You are mistaken,” said he gently; “that is not good company; that is the best.” Anne Elliot & William Elliot, Persuasion, Chapter 16. Thank you to all who contributed to make the Tea a truly enjoyable afternoon.

Kindergarten Korner – We’ve been having a wonderful week back at school after Easter vacation! The kids were surprised to come into the classroom on Tuesday and Wednesday to find that many things had been moved around, giving the whole classroom a slightly different feel. Feel free to stop in and look around! We have been busy learning a lot of things this week: adding 10 to a number, sorting coins and learning about dollars, learning about light by playing flashlight tag and making reflective collages, making watermelons, continuing to learn about trees, starting a new book of fairy tales, and, most importantly, celebrating that our Savior rose from the dead. The students are beginning to hit “countdown mode”, often asking how many days of school are left. I may not have the exact number in my head, but I am looking forward to each and every one of our remaining days!
