UPDATED REPORT CARD/CONFERENCE PROCEDURE

The first academic quarter ends on October 23. Since conferences are scheduled for the following Monday and Tuesday, report cards will be distributed to parents at the conferences.

Also different from previous years, the teachers have asked that your child accompany you to his/her conference. Should the teacher need to speak with you alone, your child may step out into the hall for a few moments.

Conferences are scheduled in fifteen-minute blocks. If you feel that fifteen minutes will not be enough, please alert Laura Ferguson.

RECENT HIGHLIGHTS:

- First and Second graders recited Shakespeare for the entire Academy
- The universe continues to expand in the hallway

GEORGE AND SUSAN KAMINSKI LIBRARY

Everyone is encouraged to share ideas and/or suggestions for book titles- fiction or non-fiction. Feel free to send your suggestions to Laura Ferguson or just add them to the Academy's Amazon Wish List. A link to the wish list will be posted with the Accents on the QuickSchools Parent Portal Message Board.

ON THE CLASSICAL BOOKSHELF...

From The Liberal Arts Tradition, Kevin Clark, and Ravi Scott Jain

"...The seven liberal arts were never meant to stand on their own as the entire curriculum, for they are designed particularly for cultivating intellectual virtue. Since human beings are more than just intellect, however, the curriculum must develop more than just intellectual virtue. Creatures formed in God's image must be cultivated in body and soul- mind, will, and affections... [T]he Christian classical educational tradition embodies just the kind of holistic and fully integrated curriculum that a thoroughly Christian understanding of human nature demands. It does so, however only when the seven liberal arts are taken as part of a larger model consisting of...piety, gymnastic, music, liberal arts, philosophy, and theology. This full-orbed education aims at cultivating fully integrated human beings, whose bodies, hearts, and minds are formed respectively by gymnastic, music, and the liberal arts; whose relationships with God, neighbor, and community are marked by piety; whose knowledge of the world, man and God fit harmoniously within a distinctly Christian philosophy; and whose lives are informed and governed by a theology forged from the revelation of God in Christ Jesus as it has been handed down through the Church in historic Christianity.

PUTTING THE FUN BACK IN 2020

In an effort to return to some semblance of normal in what is left of this year, the Academy is hosting a trick-or-treat on October 30 after school. Students will have the opportunity to trick-or-treat throughout the building and to trunk-or-treat in the parking lot. Attached to this Accents is a flyer with more information.

Please let us know if your family will be participating in the trick and/or trunk -or-treat. We want to make sure we have enough treats for everyone
